ATTO Disk Benchmark

This is a port of the popular DOS utility FreeDosGuru for DOS and Windows 95. This tool does benchmarking of hard disks, RAM, video cards and other devices and reports the results to a file. The program is easy to use. Just run the program and point to the device or the file you want to benchmark. The program will then measure the speed of the device or the file. The first time you run the program, the setup wizard will walk you through the process of configuring the program. The program also allows you to benchmark RAM, floppy disks, CD-ROM drives and other devices. The program can read DOS floppies, as well as the Windows 95 driverless format. This program does not test floppies that do not have a driver. The program also can read ZIP, JAR and other compressed files. This program does NOT test any form of hardware or software made by any company other than what it was intended to benchmark. The only computer software tested in the program is Windows 98 and any version of Windows NT. This tool will not test any other version of Windows.
