I do have a decent stock portfolio right now, but I'd like to diversify a bit. ===== reedlaw 1\. Apple - generally good long term company and shares could be much lower 2\. Google - It's possible Google and similar tech companies will lose dominance and become private companies 3\. Facebook - this is where a lot of the value is currently hiding. 5 years ago, it would have been very hard to argue that Facebook was worth so much but today it's valued at $46bn so you may be able to buy shares at a discount 4\. Zynga - still a gamble I guess 5\. Twitter maybe a good value at $5bn but Twitter has some serious problems (even though they could also go public to solve it) 6\. HN (albeit a small exposure) ~~~ staunch If you read the comments in my article you'll see I was talking about mostly #2. I'm not a big fan of Facebook but I think they're going to be okay and are a good long-term play. ----- ktsmith What is your investment strategy? If you have more capital than you will know exactly where to invest and be able to pick a winner. You could simply invest your current portfolio and keep an eye on the market. I have a long running portfolio of the top 50 stocks of the Dow Jones
